Abstract:

I will talk about a classical model--compressible Navier-Stokes equations with heat conduction in three dimensions. Given a blow-up criterion for strong solutions, we are able to prove the global existence for strong solutions in a class of large data by using continuity arguments. This is a joint work with Prof. Changjiang Zhu.