

Two Days for Young Researchers in Fluid Dynamics

June 18 - 19, 2015 at TU Darmstadt

German-Japanese International Research Training Group 1529
Mathematical Fluid Dynamics

IRTG 1529 members: V. Betz, D. Bothe, H. Egger, R. Farwig, M. Hieber, U. Kohlenbach, M. Lukacova, C. Tropea, S. Ulbrich, M. Ziegler

T. Funaki, Y. Giga, Y. Hasegawa, H. Kozono, H. Notsu, Y. Shibata, M. Tabata, M. Yamazaki, K. Yokoyama

The aim of this mini-workshop is to bring together young researchers interested in Mathematical Fluid Dynamics. Leading experts will give insights in their own research and younger participants, ranging from Master students to Postdocs, are encouraged to present their topics in short talks.

Lecturers

Dieter Bothe
TU Darmstadt, Germany

Giovanni P. Galdi
University of Pittsburgh, USA

Yoshikazu Giga
The University of Tokyo, Japan

Program

June 18, 2pm start
6pm joint dinner
June 19, 1pm end

Reimbursement

Funding for reimbursement of travel and lodging expenses is available upon registration.

PhD Positions

IRTG 1529 offers PhD and Postdoc positions in Analysis, Modeling, Numerics, Optimization, Logics, Stochastics and Engineering, including DFG scholarship and 6 months research stay in Tokyo, Japan.
