We are trying to revive (if that's the proper term) the SCS seminar, and so we are addressing this memo to those who have participated in the seminar in the past. We would also like to solicit names of additional people who might have an interest in the seminar. The ground rules are as follows:

1. Mailings to different people at the same department should all be mailed together to one person at that department.
2. Since the investment of time and money in the mailing of memos is nontrivial, we seek a firm commitment from those who propose to participate to in fact participate by circulating contributions in the format which has already become established, and which is indicated at the top of this sheet.
3. Contributions to be circulated may include preprints, preliminary reports, problems, queries, thoughts, remarks, etc. The characteristic which is essential is the informality which we want to retain; the principle is that "ANYTHING GOES"!

Those who in fact do want to be included in the regular membership should communicate this desire to us no later than April 1, 1980.
